Sha Na Na set for the Dunes

It's time once again to revisit that era of tail fins, saddle shoes and poodle skirts, The Fifties, as Sha Na Na brings a summer fun show to the Dunes Hotel June 30-July 5.

To Sha Na Na, summertime means fun with the audience at the Greaser Olympics, an evening stroll down Sha Na Na Street for some a capella doo-wop or an end of the school year high school hop.

During their last visit to the Dunes in April, the gang, including Lennie on sax, Jocko on drums, Chico on bass, Screamin' Scott on piano and Donny behind sunglasses, visited a haunted house where the inhabitants were doing the "Monster Mash." There's no telling what will happen or who will show up at a Sha Na Na concert.

The 1992 edition of the show also includes Reggie DeLeon, bass singer. He returns with his big voice and flashy dance moves. He can hit all the low notes and proves it with his version of "Matter Of Time."

Rockin' Rob Mackenzie, who hails from Melbourne, Australia, is lead guitar player. In a very short time, Rob has become the heart of the Sha Na Na sound. He really rocks.

The freshest face in the ensemble belongs to the new "greaserette," Lisa Sundstedt. Her authentic vocals and energetic movement add a new vitality to every sequence of the stage show. Rounding out the newcomers is Jimmy "Hello" Walls, a.k.a. "Billy, The Rockabilly Romeo." He moonlights on just about every instrument on stage.

The Sha Na Na phenomena began in 1968 when a group of undergraduates at New York City's Columbia University decided it was more fun singing a capella versions of their favorite '50s rock songs than doing the standard glee club fare. After a few well-received appearances in New York clubs, they started touring other college campuses. Their seventh professional appearance turned out to be an upstate New York rock festival known as "Woodstock." After that, they became an international sensation.

After 20 years dedication to the classics of rock 'n' roll by celebrating the memory of that era, Sha Na Na has become a permanent part of rock 'n' roll Americana.

Showtime for Sha Na Na at the Dunes is 8 p.m. every night with a special 10:30 p.m. performance on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

REMEMBERING THE OLD DAYS – Sha Na Na will return to the Dunes Hotel June 30-July 5, bringing memories of the 1950s back to the hotel.

Riviera hits jackpot with tourney

It was the stuff movies are made of...

At a table surrounded by players and onlookers alike, it emerged from the pack as the winner of the Riviera Summer Craps Tournament, the large first-place trophy and the even Weiss of Baltimore, Md. who took home $2,740, and Lancing, Mich.'s Ray McVicker who finished in in the Riviera Hotel & Casino's Summer Craps Tournament. The field was close and the winner of this classic Las Vegas-style showdown would be determined on the final roll.

Ken Salant had a shot at winning, but needed a "7" to pull away and win the nearly $14,000 in first-place prize money.

The dice were shaken, thrown and then...

"Seven...seven," exclaimed the dealer.

Salant had done it. He $13,700.

"I was waiting and waiting for a seven, and one finally came," he said when accepting his trophy and winnings at the tournament awards banquet. "It's the longest I've ever waited for a seven."

A resident of St. Louis, Mo. Salant had previously played in only a few casino gaming tournaments. In fact, this was the first Riviera gaming tournament in which he had ever participated.

Finishing just behind Salant in second place were Don Vancouver, British Columbia's Ted Casper finished in fourth place, Babe Crouch of Witchita Falls, Kan. took fifth place honors, and Littlefield, Texas' Forrest Price finished in sixth place.

English Leather contest scheduled

Beauty queens from all over the world will converge on the Stardust Resort and Casino on Saturday, June 27 for the International Grand Finals of the American Dream/English Leather Calendar Girl Contest.

In the elegant new Stardust Theatre, more than 50 young women from the across the United States and six foreign countries will compete for the title of Miss English Leather. The international contest will also see the selection of 12 models who will grace the next edition of the popular English Leather Calendar.

Contestants won their chance to compete in the contest by winning beauty pageants in their home towns and then winning regional contests. Each year, more than 10,000 women compete in more than 400 events world wide for the opportunity to appear in the English Leather Calendar which enjoys a circulation of more than 1 million copies.

The American Dream Festival, sponsor of the event, holds two regional finals, one at the Stardust and an Eastern Regional in Atlantic City.

A panel of highly qualified judges will select the 13 winners based on their beauty, poise and talent. Contestants will compete in evening gowns and swimwear.

The contest offers thousands of dollars in cash prizes, trips, modeling contracts, appearance fees, clothing and cosmetics to the winners. Many former calendar girls have gone on to successful careers in modeling and entertainment. Kelli McCarty, Miss USA 1991, was crowned Miss English Leather at the Stardust in the spring of 1990.

"This contest gives these young women a warm and friendly environment in which they can develop their stage presence and poise," said George Houraney, American Dream chairman of operations. "This is a learning experience for them that can't be matched in modeling school or drama classes."

The Stardust will also be the site of the grand finals of the American Dream Automotive Design Challenge. The winners of custom auto challenges all over the country will be on display in front of the Stardust June 26. The 13 winners, which will also be featured in the English Leather Calendar, will be selected by popular vote among the visitors to the auto show.

The American Dream Festival also includes a Comedy Challenge and a Vocals Challenge. The grand finals of these two contests will be held in the Starlight Lounge at 10 p.m. June 25-26.

Admission to the auto, comedy vocals contests is free. The winners will be announced during the Calendar Girl finals on June 27.

Tickets to the calendar girl pageant can be purchased at the Stardust beginning June 20. For more information call 732-6111.

ELEGANCE – Miss English Leather Shea Bowen of Atlanta, Ga. strolls down the runway during the evening gown competition.

HOT SWIMSUIT – Miss December Billee Inglish of Sacramento, Calif. poses for the judges during the swimsuit competition.

Liz Taylor's next wedding may be at San Remo

Hiriam (Sam) Roller, well-know Las Vegas gambler and San Remo habitue, disclosed this week that if Liz Taylor agrees to consent to marry him, the wedding will be held at the Hotel San Remo's Chateau Ballroom. While not completely ruling out the outdoor wedding and reception by the lush pool area surrounded by special landscaping and decorations, Roller did express a strong preference for the elegant Chateau Ballroom.

When queried as to the likelihood of Liz Taylor's marrying him, as she is apparently married to another, Hiriam responded with quotes from the 1968 Shel Silverstein poem, "Liz Taylor's Going to Marry Me." Since publication of the poem, he said, Taylor has married 4-5 times, and the mathematical probability of her consenting to marry him increases with each year that passes.

Apart from being a loyal player in the San Remo Casino, Roller noted the availability of an extensive catering menu or extraordinary buffet for his many local and out-of-town friends. While he had not specifically chosen any of the custom wine lists or theme parties such as the popular "island-style" buffet, Roller did confirm that the Hotel San Remo would definitely be his only choice for the happy event. He specifically noted the cooperation of Banquet Manager, Pat Hine, (702) 739-9000, Ext 4171, and her staff as a decided factor in his choice. As it is certain he will have more than ten or more guests attending, special room rates will be available through the hotel's Sales Department (702) 597-6003.

Jahna draws celebrities to Riv

Following on the heels of an unprecedented media blitz by "Crazy Girls – Fantasie de Paris" guest star Jahna a new round of celebrities are coming to see the "Sexiest Showgirl on the Strip" at the Riviera.

The most recent famous Hollywood couple to enjoy "Crazy Girls" came especially to see Jahna. Don Johnson and Melanie Griffith visited Las Vegas recently and took in the hit revue which includes exotic sensual dance numbers along with high energy music. Jahna shows off her own brand of comedy as she emcees the show nightly.

After the show, Melanie and Don met Jahna in the casino and the actress of "Pacific Heights" and "Bonfire of the Vanities" gave Jahna a big hug and said her act was "wonderful." The former, "Miami Vice" star who played Detective Sonny Crockett turned to Jahna and said, "Now way!" in reference to her recent revelation that she was born a he. Jahna reassured the actor with an emphatic, "WAAAY!"

Many stars have been in to see the "Crazy Girls" production show based upon the longtime world famous Crazy Horse in Paris. "Crazy Girls" one-of-a-kind status has always had a star following.

Tommy Lasorda has been into the show several times and Tom Cruise once sat through the show three times one evening.

What's the attraction? The talented and gorgeous "Crazy Girls" of course. The action-packed revue runs a little over one-hour in the intimate Crazy Girls Theatre.

AT THE LADY LUCK – Cabaret Circus continues to bring record crowds to the Lady Luck Casino in downtown Las Vegas. The show opened earlier this year, and has proven one of Southern Nevada's most popular attractions.

GARRET PETROV

Dancer skates into LV

When "Boy-lesque dancer Garret Petrov was eight years old he loved to roller skate, but eventually he traded in his wheels for a pair of ice skates. Little did he know this switch from ball bearings to blades would lead to a professional ice skating career.

As an amateur ice skater, Garret and his skating partner won the American Junior Freestyle bronze metal for Dances and placed 7th in Figure. Professionally, they were crowned the pair champions at the 1990 U.S. Open Challenge Cup.

AT THE SANDS – Melinda, the First Lady of Magic, is drawing rave reviews at the Sands Hotel's Copa Room. Further information may be obtained by calling 733-5453.

After touring around the country with several professional ice skating productions, Garret decided to unpack his suitcase and settle down in Las Vegas. "Constantly being on the road and performing in different towns can get to you after a while," said Garret, "I reached a point in my life when I needed to settle down and Las Vegas was the place."

Garret realized that jobs for ice skaters on The Strip were far and few between so he decided to try his luck at dancing. "I took a few dance classes and surprisingly I was hired at my first dance audition," said Garret.

As a hobby, Garret designs costumes and sketches drawings. His costume designs will be featured in the afternoon variety show "High Pressure" opening in July at Gaughan's Plaza Hotel. "My designs for this show are avant-garde," said Garret, "and they are geared toward the themes incorporated in the show."

Garret models his artistic style after the master of avant-garde, Erte. "I love his style and I try to combine his work with fashions from Vogue to shape my own creations," said Garret.

"Boy-lesque" is performed nightly except Wednesdays at Gaughan's Plaza Hotel. Showtimes are 8 p.m. and

Jerry Lewis, Debbie Reynolds at the DI

Jerry Lewis and Debbie Reynolds, two of the entertainment industry's most talented stars, have been set to headline at the Stars' Desert Inn for five nights, July 8-12. During their engagement in the hotel and country club's Crystal Room they will entertain audiences with one show at 10 pm Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday and two shows at 8:00 and 11:00 pm on Saturday.

Jerry's comedic genius has been enjoyed over the years by fans from the Catskill Mountains to the continent of Europe. His appearances with Dean Martin on the Colgate Comedy Hour became must-see Sunday night television viewing and his comic antics on the motion picture screen has spanned four decades. Jerry is also an accomplished singer. During his career he has recorded several singles and albums; one of them, "Rock-A-Bye Your Baby," has sold nearly four million copies.

In Europe, Jerry has been hailed as one of the greatest comedians of the 20th century, playing to standing-room-only audiences whenever and wherever he appears. Most recently, his talent was recognized when, in January, 1991, Whoopi Goldberg presented him with the cable television industry's ACE Comic Life Achievement Award. In April, 1991, the National Association of Broadcasters, at their convention in Las Vegas, inducted him into the Broadcast Hall of Fame.

Debbie Reynolds shares the Stars' Desert Inn's Crystal Room stage with Jerry. From her screen debut in "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady" to winning the coveted female leading role in "Singin' In The Rain," the career of America's Sweetheart, Debbie Reynolds, has been an illustrious one. She has appeared in more than 25 motion pictures, has had million-selling records ("Abba Dabba Honeymoon" and "Tammy"), and established herself as a Broadway musical star in such productions as "Irene," "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Woman Of The Year."

JERRY LEWIS

DEBBIE REYNOLDS

Debbie has been a Las Vegas headliner for three decades. During much of that time, she entertained audiences at the Stars' Desert Inn. Today, the versatile performer continues to tour, playing to packed houses and appreciative audiences 40 weeks a year.

Further information and reservations to see Jerry Lewis and Debbie Reynolds during their July 8-12 engagement at the Stars' Desert Inn can be obtained by calling the Crystal Room box office, (702) 733-4566.

LE BISTRO LOUNGE STAR – Singer Tom Christi can be seen in the Riviera Hotel & Casino's Le Bistro Lounge through July 26. A Las Vegas favorite, Christi's act features music most requested through the '80s, classics from the '40s and '50s, Rock 'n' Roll, Country and Top 40 pop sounds of today. The Le Bistro Lounge is located within the resort's 70,000 square-foot casino addition, and is one of the largest and most elegant lounges in Las Vegas. Engelbert's silver anniversary tour at Bally's

Engelbert Humperdinck is giving himself a present this year in honor of his 25 years in the music industry.

The singer is doing a less hectic but more rewarding mix of concert venues and countries for his Silver Anniversary Tour rather than the rigorous touring schedule he typically keeps, according to Scott Dorsey, Engelbert's manager and son. Dorsey said all the concerts locations have special significance throughout Engelbert's 25-year career.

It's only fitting that "the Entertainment Capital of the World" is one of the anniversary stops for the man with the voice the London Times once described as "the premier voice of the century." Engelbert has long been a favorite draw with Las Vegas audiences.

He will appear at Bally's Casino Resort June 25 through 30 in the Celebrity Showroom.

Each of Engelbert's previous tours have been unique, and his Silver Anniversary Tour stop at Bally's will be no different.

"No matter what success I enjoy, I still believe that an artist must face new challenges," said Engelbert when asked why he presents an entirely new concert each year.

Never content to rest on his laurels with 40 gold records, 15 platinum albums and more than a hundred million records sold, Engelbert will release a new album from Polydor Records in August in honor of his 25th music anniversary. He will introduce some of his new songs to his Bally's audiences as well as singing some of the songs that made him famous, including "Release Me" and "After the Lovin'".

The album features six songs written by Engelbert including "Reach Out." The song is dedicated to a Las Vegas pediatric aids education and support group with the same name. Engelbert has been very involved with Reach Out, and recently debuted "Reach Out" on the nationally syndicated "Sally Jessy Raphael" television show on a segment about children with aids.

For show information or to charge tickets by phone, call 739-4567.

At Bally's Caribbean Stud Poker has been introduced to Las Vegas by the popular Las Vegas Strip Resort.

A variation of standard five-card stud poker on a blackjack table, the game was brought to Bally's after a field trial. It was approved by the Nevada gaming regulators.

Dale Darrough, assistant vice president and casino manager for Bally's Las Vegas, said Caribbean Stud Poker is easy to learn, an enjoyable altertnative to establish casino games and has the inducement of a progressive jackpot.

According to Bally's casino pit action from traditional table games like craps and blackjack has fallen off in recent years. Many customers have turned their attention to slot machines and video poker machines, whihc have become easier to play and offer a wider variety of payouts.

Carribean Stud Poker is played with a 52-card deck on a colorful, custom-designed table. Standard poker rules apply with a couple of variations.

The game was first introduced in Aruba and other islands in the Caribbean. Besides Bally's Las Vegas, the game is currently being played at a couple of local hotesl and on some cruise ships and casinos outside the United States.

George Burns scheduled for Caesars Palace

George Burns, as previously reported, returns to Caesars Palace July 3-5. He last worked at the hotel in January, 1991, when the hotel held two gala celebrations honoring his 95th birthday. George then moved to the Riviera Hotel where he signed a "lifetime" contract to appear there. We understand that the "Riv" let him out of the contract, when they lost all the headliners to the Desert Inn. Now Caesars has signed a long term deal with the ageless Burns.

THIS AND THAT QUICKLY – Don Johnson and Melanie Griffith made the rounds a few weeks back, visiting with Liza and her boyfriend, Billy Stritch at the Desert Inn. They caught her show in the main room, then sat through a set with Billy in the Starlight Theatre. They followed this up with a visit backstage with Jahna at the Riviera, who has become a hot item in the show "Crazy Girls."...Richie Minervini returns to Bob Kephart's Comedy Stop at the Tropicana this week along with Kevin James and Adam Ferrara. Richard Jeni, one of the hottest stand-ups on the road today, will be at the Comedy Stop for a special three-nighter beginning July 3...Jay Ramsey returns to the Atrium Lounge at the Trop and joins up with Denise Clemente through July 19...Debbie Reynolds has returned to the Dunes Showroom this week and will close Monday June 29. Her next gig will then see the dynamite performer sharing the stage at the Desert Inn with comedian Jerry Lewis July 9th...Catch a Rising Star has the comedy of Carl LaBove and Sammy Guttman (co-headliners) beginning Tuesday (June 30) along with stand-up Don Barnhart...We hear through our little grapevine that Melinda may be looking for a new room to take her show. The numbers (and the deal) at the Sands have not been the best and she would like to be able to meet payroll at least...Freddie Bell back in town from a successful road trip and returns to the lounge at the Sands Hotel in July...Country fans will be flocking to Caesars Palace beginning July 9, when Reba McEntire and Bill Engvall open for four nights...An Evening of Comedy, starring Rip Taylor, Unknown Comic and Johnny Dark, headlines in Don's Celebrity Theatre at the Riverside Hotel in Laughlin...Steve Sweeney, Karen Lorshbough and Michael O'Rourke check into the "Improv" June 29...Well, gang, guess that's it for this week. I'm outa here!

Triple action blackjack at Riv

The Riviera Hotel & Casino now offers triple action blackjack, a new and exciting variation of the favorite table game.

Falba said he attributes this growing popularity partially to the fact that the new game combines the strategy and

Most of the rules that apply to blackjack also apply to triple action blackjack. However, the primary difference between the two games is the new variation allows players three chances to win off one hand.

In triple action blackjack, players must first wager on hands one and two, or hands one, two and three. The dealer will then deal each player two cards, while taking an up card. However, the dealer does not get a hole card. Instead, he uses the same up card in three consecutive dealer hands once the players have acted on their hands. As each of the three hands is played, just as with blackjack, players will have to decide stand, hit, split, double or take insurance. When a player breaks and hits, all wagers are lost and the hand is over.

According to Riviera Vice President of Casino Operations Mickey Falba, although it has only been offered at the Riviera for a short time, triple action blackjack has already become very popular among blackjack players.

"We're seeing daily increases in our triple action blackjack play," he said, "and I think this trend will continue as more and more players learn about the game."

excitement of blackjack with the multiple wager aspect of other games such as craps and roulette.

But, as with any new game, there is a certain degree of intimidation felt by those unfamiliar with the game, and Falba said his staff is prepared to take the time to teach the game to new players and to answer any questions they might have.

"This is a fun game, and we want all our players to really enjoy their time playing triple action blackjack," he said. "But to enjoy a game, you have to understand it and feel comfortable with it, so our dealers are ready to do whatever it takes to make sure players feel at ease and have a good time."

The Riviera offers triple action blackjack at two of its 42 blackjack tables. More information on the Riviera's casino can be obtained by calling (800) 634-3420 or (702) 734-5110.
